MUST A WIFE OBEY?

Adam, in Garden of Eden, Made a Mistake

By Marguerite Moores Marshall.

Boycott the disobedient wife at the altar! That is the advice given to-day to men readers of The Evening World by one despairing husband, whose letter seems to show that he knows whereof he speaks. This gentleman, who signs himself "A. B.," goes further back than St. Paul to prove that wives should submit themselves unto their husbands as unto the Lord. He points out that if our first father had shown a little more "masculine energy" he might have prevented the disobedience of our first mother—and, as a corollary, we all might be living in Paradise now, instead of in over-heated apartment houses or under-heated suburbs.

Personally, I feel that life in New York City is more interesting, if less pellucidly placid, than life in the Garden of Eden. On the score of the first moving day, I have nothing against Eve. (But that, maybe, is because I am one of those "modern sisters" on whom, according to Mr. "A. B.," her sins will be visited. For I shall never promise to obey—anybody!) It is a pitiful and convincing picture of the henpecked male which our correspondent presents. I doubt if it appeals to any real woman, or if she desires to wish the role on the man whom she loves best. On the contrary, she is likely to be as jealous of that man's dignity and self-respect as of her own.

But although a henpecked husband is a truly deplorable spectacle, so likewise is a rooster-pecked wife. If that is the ideal of "A. B.," if that is what he means by his long reference to the "old-fashioned sweet-heart," I'm afraid many of us must disagree with him. And he is going to find support from every member of his own sex! Does the modern man want to marry a 1916 edition of Patient Griselda? Does he want a wife who has neither a mind nor a will of her own? What do Evening World readers say? Here is the plea for husband's rights.

"Dear Madam: You have asked for "Every husband's opinion on the issue of a wife's obedience. Well, let's start with the very first precedent recorded. Everybody knows what consequence the Bible attributes to the disobedience of the first two mates. If Adam had shown a little more masculine energy he might have prevented Eve from disobeying the command of God, and all of mankind would be in Paradise to-day.

"But the penalty for Eve's sin will be visited still more severely upon her modern sisters, for contrary to your own prophecy, I dare predict that the species of disobedient wives will become extinct in compliance with the law of the survival of the fittest. There always will be enough obedient ones to be found to warrant boycotting the other ones at the altar.

"Here is a little explanation taken from practical life:

"Everything goes well in my house, except that a wife who constantly wrangles over matrimonial issues cannot supply that air of happiness and amiability which is so perfect a frame for feminine beauty.

"My wife is an efficient housekeeper and a good mother to our little boy, still she is incessant wangler over rather insignificant matters never allow the spirits of love and happy contentment to become permanent boarders with us.

"I know that every self-respecting, good husband would relinquish all of his matrimonial privileges rather than acquiesce in being a henpecked man.

"Such a man after untold unsuccessful attempts to convince his wife of her wrong attitude will regard their marriage as a failure, and while he goes on supporting his family as before, he cannot but feel, down in his heart, that he is dragging with him through life an unshakable burden. Everything would be well and happiness would reign supreme were the woman in the case an old-fashioned love-giving appreciative sweet-heart. What does her independent attitude gain for her?

"When my son gets old enough to understand his best chum, father, I shall explain to him that unless he wishes to be an unhappy man all his life he'd better look for a future mate who gladly swears to Love, Honor and Obey."

AN EARLY FALL.

Three-year-old Sammy Zachar of Hester Street fell three stories yesterday and merely scrambled thirty dozen eggs.

Ashmead-Ingersoll Brideal. Miss Marjorie Snow Ingersoll, daughter of E. Fred Ingersoll, was married to Lenox Livingston Ashmead, son of the Rev. Charles A. Ashmead, yesterday afternoon in St. Mark's Church, Tarrytown, by the bridegroom's father. Miss Katherine W. Ashmead of Yonkers was the bride's only attendant, and Harold L. DeLamater of New York was the best man. Mrs. Ashmead is contralto soloist in St. Bartholomew's Church.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—(tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—) easy, natural feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. E. Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, an improved feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why making a bowel movement is so easy and pleasant. They are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.—Adv.

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost if you get from your druggist a package of castor-oil dissolved in a teaspoonful of a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a stiffness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that make arranging it a pleasure.—Adv.

Semi-Annual Sale of Photographic Albums

The albums in this sale are all of standard size, in the most popular bindings. Most of them are genuine leather, including Seal Grain, Walrus Grain, Morocco, Alligator, large Walrus, Spanish Mission, Broadtail, English long grain, etc. A few are bound in cloth, and a very few in imitation leather.

Both bound and loose leaf books are included. The prices represent reductions of approximately 25% from our regular prices. The list is too long and varied to allow of its being listed here, but the prices will range from 37c for a 4x5 1/2 genuine leather book of 30 leaves to $2.82 for an 11x14 book of same kind.

Macy's—Camera Dept., Fifth Floor, Centre.

Afternoon Frocks Of Unusual Charm, $24.74

Five distinctive models at this remarkably low price. We would like to sketch them all, but space does not permit. Each one reflects some new style note expressing individuality seldom found in frocks at this price.

The fabrics are Crepe Meteor and taffeta, combined with Georgette crepe. The one illustrated has lace vestee, collar and revers embroidered in gold; full skirt with tunic pointed at sides, giving long graceful lines.

All are made with full skirts—some oorded at the bottom in flare effect, others trimmed with broad folds, tunics, etc.; sleeves of taffeta or Georgette; pretty finishings of lace at neck and sleeves.

Colors—navy, black, gray, Copenhagen, green and wistaria.
